Location and History

The College is at Clinton, Hinds County, Mississippi, on the Alabama and Vicksburg Railroad, ten miles west from Jackson, thirty-five east from Vicksburg, and two miles north from McRaven, a station on the Jackson & Natchez branch of the Y. & M. V.

In the early history of the State, Clinton was a fine business point and many prosperous people had their homes here. It is now a town of only 400 permanent white citizens, but it is growing. Bonds have been issued and contracts let for excellent water and electric light systems. An electric car line has been surveyed from Jackson to Vicksburg, via Clinton. We have an excellent public school in addition to Hillman College, for girls and young women, and Mississippi College. There are many indications that Clinton is to be one of the most desirable residence towns in the State. Its ancient name was Mt. Salus, or Hill of Health.

In 1826 the citizens established a school, under control of their own Board of Trustees; later it was committed to the Presbyterian denomination. The Presbyterians having given it up, it was in 1850 committed to the Baptists. At the breaking out of the war between the States, excellent buildings had been erected and considerable endowment subscribed, but at the close of the war, the College was left not only without endowment, but heavily in debt. Under the presidency, however, of Dr. Walter Hillman, the buildings were repaired and the work of resuscitation begun. By indomitable energy, Prof. M. T. Martin raised from our impoverished people the means to cancel the debt.

In 1872 Dr. W. S. Webb became the president. Under his wise administration of eighteen years, with the co-operation of a self-sacrificing Faculty, and with but meager resources, the College constantly grew in power, in usefulness, and in favor with the people.

In 1890 the American Baptist Education Society proposed to give the college $7,500 for endowment if the trustees would raise $50,000. Rev. J. B. Gambrell was asked to undertake the work.

He succeeded in collecting $35,301.29, and the society paid $5,200, making $40,592.70. The American Baptist Education Society in 1901 made a second proposition to give $15,000 if the denomination would raise $45,000 by July 1st, 1902, thus raising the endowment to $100,000. President Lowrey led the movement and easily succeeded in meeting the proposition in pledges which are being rapidly paid.

In 1891 Dr. Webb resigned the presidency and was succeeded by his son-in-law, Rev. R. A. Venable, D. D., under whose scholarly administration of four years the College was largely patronized.

Upon Dr. Venable's resignation Dr. J. W. Provine was elected chairman of the Faculty; after two years he was made president. During his administration important and extensive improvements were made on the buildings, grounds and apparatus. At the close of his second year, the trustees reported to the Convention that the income from endowment, rents and fees had been sufficient to pay all expenses for the year and leave a small balance.

In the summer of 1897, however, yellow fever appeared on our Gulf coast; from there it reached Edwards, and from Edwards it reached Clinton. The fever lingered until December. All the other male schools of the State opened about the middle of November, but at that time no one could tell when it would be possible to open at Clinton. Thus the students scattered and the College was left almost without patronage.

Through the efforts of Rev. W. T. Lowrey, then the president of Blue Mountain Female College, over $3,300 was raised to meet the expenses of the session, and by the professors' making heavy sacrifices, the crisis was passed.

At the close of that session, however, Dr. Provine resigned his position as president, and the trustees set their hearts upon Rev. W. T. Lowrey as his successor. On the 16th day of July, during the session of the Convention at Brookhaven, he accepted their unanimous election. Many influences were set to work to make his first session a conspicuous success. Words of encouragement and hope were heard in every part of the State, but alas! before the session opened, yellow fever again appeared in the State. It reached Jackson, ten miles east of Clinton, and Edwards, seventeen miles west, and was, through mistake reported in the New Orleans and Memphis papers as being in Clinton again. The opening had to be postponed until November 9th, and again our students scattered, many of them going out of the State, many of them entering high schools in the interior, and many deciding to stay out of school for the year. Yet in spite of the fact that we had so small a list of the previous year to draw from, there was a decided advance in the patronage. Again an appeal was made for help on running expenses and again the amount of about $3,300 was contributed by the friends of the institution.

The next session was a success. In spite of the fact that yellow fever broke out in Jackson ten days before the session opened and remained there ten or twelve weeks, the College leaped from an enrollment of 144 the past session to 231. The next session the enrollment reached 288, 30 more than were ever before enrolled in one session. During the session of 1902-3, the enrollment of students reached 300 and during the session which has just closed the number has run to 333. The College is now enjoying the most prosperous period of its long and useful history.

If an institution can meet and pass such crises as have come to our College and can spring back so readily to success and prosperity, surely our people ought to rally with undaunted courage and feel assured that a glorious future awaits us.

Ownership and Management.

The College is owned by a board of trustees consisting of twenty-seven members, elected by the Mississippi Baptist Convention. The term of nine of these trustees expires every year, and their places are filled by election at the annual meeting of the Convention. This enables the Baptists of the State to change the entire board every three years if they wish to do so.

The board has a regular meeting every year, during the annual commencement exercises of the College, and a called meeting during each annual session of the Mississippi Baptist Convention.

Design.

This is not a theological school. It is not a school specially for young preachers. True, a great many preachers are educated here, but about five-sixths of our students expect to pursue other callings. While we have sent out many noble preachers,

School of English

P. H. EAGER, PROFESSOR.

In this department the following objects are sought:

Knowledge of the language and its history, and practical skill in composition.

General acquaintance with the classic literature which it embodies, and accurate acquaintance with a considerable number of its masterpieces.

Familiarity with the history of the people of whose life and spirit this language and literature are the best expressions.

Such a knowledge of literary qualities as will aid the judgment in discriminating between the good and the bad and cultivate a taste for the most beautiful and memorable in literature.

ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS.

For Careful Reading.—Carlyle's Essay on Burns; Addison's Sir Roger de Coverley; Goldsmith's Vicar of Wakefield; Lowell's The Vision of Sir Launfal; Scott's Ivanhoe; Tennyson's The Princess; Coleridge's The Ancient Mariner; Shakespeare's Merchant of Venice and Julius Cæsar; George Eliot's Silas Marner.

For Critical Study.—Macaulay's Essay on Milton; Macaulay's Essay on Addison; Burke's Speech on Conciliation with the American Colonies; Shakespeare's Macbeth; Milton's Minor Poems.

No candidate will be accepted whose work is notably defective in point of spelling and punctuation.

Let students contemplating entering this institution, and teachers preparing students for Mississippi College, take note of these entrance requirements and regulate their work accordingly.

Cheap, but well edited editions of these books, are issued by nearly all the leading publishing houses, and may be ordered from the American Book Co., Cincinnati, O.; Ginn & Co., Atlanta, Ga.; Houghton, Mifflin & Co., New York; Scott, Foresman & Co., Chicago, and other leading publishers.

FRESHMAN YEAR.

Scott and Denney's Composition—Rhetoric, George's Types of Literary Art from Chaucer to Arnold, and Heydrick's How to Study Literature.

Three declamations are required of each member of the class, and numerous written exercises based on the prescribed reading course.

SOPHOMORE YEAR.

The work of this year is in Higher Rhetoric, Middle English, and the oration. Scott and Denney's Paragraph-Writing, Corson's selections from Chaucer's Canterbury Tales, Heller's Early American Orations.

Two declamations and one original oration required of each student.

JUNIOR YEAR.

The Junior year is devoted to Philology and a critical study of Shakespeare and the essay. Critical papers, based on the reading course, are required, and two orations, delivered and criticised before the student body. Cook's First Book in Old English and Meiklejohn's History of the English Language with Champney's History of English for reference.

SENIOR YEAR.

The work of the Senior class for 1904-5 will be in the poets of English Classicism, English Romanticism, and Transcendentalism and a study of prose fiction with a selected course of Novels. Winchester's Principles of Literary Criticism will accompany this work.

Corson's Primer of English Verse forms the basis of a study of Metre.

Each student delivers two chapel orations before Faculty and student body.

Theses required on the poets, and novelists studied.
Master's Work assigned on application.

School of Latin

A. J. AVEN, PROFESSOR.

The aim of the Latin course is to give such a general knowledge of the civilization, language and literature of the Romans, as is necessary to form a part of a liberal education; hence the course of study in this school includes the language, history, mythology, and literature of the Roman people. A progressive method of instruction is strictly adhered to. A careful pronunciation in accordance with the Roman method and daily exercises in reading the Latin text are required, in order to so familiarize the student with Latin words and the arrangement of the words in the Latin sentence that he may as far as possible acquire the ability to think in Latin. As a means to this end, much stress is laid on reading easy prose at sight, and translating into Latin, English based on the Latin text read. All candidates for the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science are required to study Latin.

The requirements for admission to the Freshman class embrace one year of thorough preparatory work. The course of study leading to the degree of B. A. is continued through the Senior year. The course leading to the degree of B.S. is continued through the Sophomore year.

Senior Preparatory.—First Latin Book (Smiley and Stork.) Five hours per week.

Freshman Year.—Cæsar (Harper and Tolman); Greenough's Grammar, Prose Lessons, Sight Reading. Five hours per week.

Sophomore Year.—Cicero's Orations and Letters (Allen and Greenough); Virgil's Aeneid (Frieze); Greenough's Grammar, Prose Lessons, Sight Reading. Four hours per week.

Junior Year.—Livy, Horace; Grammar, Prose Lessons, Sight Reading. Four hours per week.

Senior Year.—Tacitus or Suetonius; Juvenal or Lucian; Plautus or Terence. Studies in the Literary History of the Romans. Three hours per week.

A course of studies leading to the M. A. degree will be assigned on application.

School of Greek

MURRAY LATIMER, PROFESSOR.

The aim of this department is to lay the basis for a thorough and critical scholarship in the Greek language. This school is divided into four classes and extends through the entire college course. The work of the first year is largely devoted to the gaining of a thorough and persistent knowledge of the inflection and formation of words. Accuracy in form and accent is attained by constant practice in written exercises, and correct pronunciation is secured by repeated drills in reading the corrected forms from the board.

In the second year the work is intended more particularly to strengthen and extend the foundations already laid in the Freshman year. The fixing of the forms and the simpler principles of syntax well in mind, and the acquisition of a well-ordered and somewhat extensive Attic vocabulary, are accordingly the chief aim; and this is worked for by reading and Greek composition (in daily and weekly exercises) based upon that reading. Along with this goes, naturally, careful explanation of all matters relating to life, manners, customs, history and geography.

In the Junior year, the same method is followed. Greek composition as a means of securing accuracy in linguistic knowledge goes on as before. A wider scope is given to the instruction by giving more prominence than previously to the subject-matter of what is read, and to the historic place of the writer and his work in the literature.

In the class work the literary and historico-literary side of the work is further emphasized, and an endeavor is made to awaken interest in the linguistic side by encouraging the practice of independent observation of linguistic facts and their effect upon literary expression.

Course of Study for 1904-1905.

Freshman.—White's Beginner's Greek Book, Ancient Geography of Greece. Five hours per week.

Sophomore.—Xenophon's Anabasis, Prose Composition. Four hours per week during the first term; 5 hours a week during the second and third terms.

Junior.—Orations of Lysias (1st term); Homer's Iliad, Jebbe's Homer, (2nd term); Plato's Apology (3d term). Greek Prose Compositions throughout the year. Five hours per week.

Senior.—Demosthenes' Philippics (1st term); Euripides' Iphigenia in Tauris (2nd term); and a comedy of Aristophanes in the 3d term or some equivalent reading. Practice in Sight Reading, Greek Prose Composition. Three hours a week.

In the Senior year private reading is prescribed. The work assigned varies from year to year to meet the needs of the class and is required for graduation. During the past two sessions the supplementary work was in English, a History of Classical Greek Literature; Vol. I, Greek Poetry (two books). Vol. II, Greek Prose (2 books.) A history of Old Greek Education; Rambles and Studies in Greece; and a History of Greek Life.

Graduate Greek for Master's Degree.

The instruction in this course will be more comprehensive than in the undergraduate course.

Some extended historic, poetical, or philosophical work will be read and studied as a whole.

The following is given for the session of 1904-1905:

Sophocles (one play), Plutarch, Selected Lives (Life of Themistocles), Aeschylus (one play), Euripides (one play), The Gorgias of Plato, and History of Grecian Literature.

For Reference in all cases.—Liddell and Scott's Lexicon. Younge's English-Greek Lexicon. Smith's Classical Dictionary, Hadley and Allen's Greek Grammar, Goodwin's Greek Grammar, The Irregular Verbs of Attic Prose (Hogue), and Goodwin's Greek Moods and Tenses.

Department of Modern Languages

J. W. PROVINE, PH. D., INSTRUCTOR IN GERMAN.

A. J. AVEN, INSTRUCTOR IN FRENCH.

German.

In this institution, the use of the so-called speaking method of instruction is impracticable in consequence of the diffusion of grammatical material. The experience gained in the study of Latin, Greek and French will be utilized in the acquisition of German, saving to the student much irksome routine indispensable in his earlier linguistic studies.

To the principles of general grammar already acquired, the student will add at once a knowledge of the forms of inflected German words, as a prerequisite to reading. Subsequently, ample means will be furnished for the more thorough study of the language and literature.

The text-books will be the Joynes-Meissner Grammar and Joynes' German reader, and selections from German authors—Schiller, Goethe Heine, etc.

French.

The course of study in this school is arranged with the view of imparting a most thorough and extensive knowledge of the French language and literature practicable within the time allowed. Commencing with the subject of pronunciation, the study is pursued by means of progressive exercises, the student thus acquiring by degrees the essentials of French Grammar, and at the same time becoming acquainted with the idioms which so strikingly characterize the French language.

With this equipment the class proceeds to the reading of choice extracts from the leading French authors, passing thence to the classical literature of the language, consisting of the works of Fenelon, Corneille, etc.

In connection with the work of reading, French words are studied with constant reference to their derivation from the Latin; and the French vocabulary is constantly compared with the English; thus incidentally exercising the student in comparative philology and broadening his views of language in general.

At the end of the course the average student is qualified to read with readiness ordinary French prose, and with the aid of the lexicon and some study, to master the most difficult poetry.

Text-book—First French book (Fraser and Squair's French Grammar.

Department of History

G. H. BRUNSON, A. M., PROFESSOR.

Freeman's freighted epigram, "History is past politics, and politics is present history," breathes the spirit of the historical course, which extends through the four collegiate years and is required.

The lessons of the past are given a present, vital application by reference to current conditions, and from the outset, the student is encouraged to read philosophy into history by observing the law of cause and effect in epoch-making movements.

Especial attention is paid to the institutional growth, constitutional progress, and religious development of nations. Principles are studied, as much as possible, in the attractive light of personalities.

Candidates for admission into this department are required to have a thorough elementary knowledge of the History of the United States and Mississippi.

Courses.

FRESHMAN YEAR.

Four hours a week during the first and second terms will be given to West's Ancient History. The third term will be given to English History, the text to be selected. This year's work will be largely a drill course, having for its object the laying of a broad foundation for the college course in History.

SOPHOMORE YEAR.

The first and second terms will be given to Medieval and Modern European periods. Robinson's Western Europe will be the text used. Especial attention will be given to Treaties of Modern Europe and to the development of States and Constitutions. This will be followed by an extensive study of the American Government, based on Bryce's American Commonwealth, or Ashley's American Federal State.

... will be devoted to the
... based on Bullock's Introduction to the Study
OF ECONOMICS.

The second term will be given to the study of International law. Davis' Elements of International Law will be the text used.

POST-GRADUATE COURSES FOR M. A. DEGREE IN HIS- TORY.

Economics.

An assignment in one or more of the following elective topics may be used as either major or minor course. Readings will be assigned by text on application. The individual preference of the student will receive consideration.

Advanced course in the study of Economics; History of American Commerce; Tariff History of the United States; History of Currency in the United States; Banking; Theory of Value; Labor and Capital; Economic Theories of Socialists.

Sociology.

Studies will be outlined for those who desire to study society in any of its phases.

History.

I. Ancient History.—Ancient Monarchies to the Fall of the Persian Empire; History of Greece, History of Rome.

Department of Philosophy

W. T. LOWREY, M. A., INSTRUCTOR.

The work of this department is all done in the Senior year. Preparatory to the other work in Philosophy the first term is given to the history of this field of investigation. The class will use Rogers' Student's History of Philosophy.

Psychology will be studied the second term from Davis' Elements of Psychology, or Dewey's Psychology. This will be followed the third term by Davis' Elements of Ethics.

Four hours a week will be given the third term, also to Davis' Inductive and Deductive Logic, or Creighton's Logic.

POST-GRADUATE COURSES FOR THE M. A. DEGREE.

Psychology.—Weber's History of Philosophy, Porter's Human Intellect.

Ethics.—Calderwood's Handbook of Moral Philosophy, Porter's Elements of Moral Science.

Logic.—Davis' Theory of Thought, Hamilton's Logic.

School of Mathematics

J. M. SHARP, PROFESSOR.

Throughout the course the aim of instruction in this department is to develop the mind of the student in accordance with known laws of mental growth, and to form and cultivate habits of independent reasoning and of clear and accurate statement. Original exercises and problems, designed to illustrate the principles developed in the text are required, and contribute, in no small measure, towards making the instruction practical as well as thorough, and the student's interest a known quantity. The value of fullness of explanation and variety of illustration is recognized in fundamental routine operations.

In arranging the undergraduate work, attention is given to the logical sequence of the subjects, but the logical order is sacrificed where the exigencies of the case seem to require it, or where intellectual lameness would result.

While insisting that the best foundation for practice is a well-grounded knowledge of theory, the student is not allowed to forget that he "learns by doing." More than six hundred original exercises are required from the geometry class alone—to say nothing of similar requirements in other branches of mathematics.

Four years of Mathematics are required in the B. S. course and three in the B. A. course.

Applicants for admission into the Freshman class must pass a satisfactory examination in Higher Arithmetic and Elementary Algebra.

Entrance examinations will be held September 5 and 6, 1904.

Candidates for admission into higher classes will be examined upon the work required of the lower classes.

FRESHMAN YEAR.

First Term—Downey's Higher Algebra, 5 hours per week.

Second and Third Term—Wentworth's Plane and Solid Geometry, Books I-V., 5 hours per week.

SOPHOMORE YEAR.

First Term—Downey's Higher Algebra, completed, 5 hours per week.

Second and Third Term—Wentworth's Plane and Solid Geometry completed, 5 hours per week.

JUNIOR YEAR.

First Term—Wentworth's Plane and Spherical Trigonometry, 4 hours per week.

Second and Third Term—Wentworth's Surveying and Hardy's Analytical Geometry, 4 hours per week.

SENIOR YEAR.

First Term—Hayes' Calculus, 3 hours per week.

Second and Third Term—Young's Manual of Astronomy, 3 hours per week.

For the M. A. degree, with Mathematics as major study, candidates must pass satisfactory examination on the following texts, in addition to what is required in Physics:

Chas. Smith's Treatise on Algebra, Chas. Smith's Conic Sections, Hardy's Calculus, Green's Spherical and Practical Astronomy, and Young's General Astronomy.

School of Natural Sciences

J. W. PROVIN, PROFESSOR.

M. LATIMER, ASSISTANT.

In order to determine the amount of work necessary in this department to lead up to the degrees B.A., B.S., and B.P., refer to the schedule of values given on pages 37-38.

Chemistry.

This department embraces General and Practical Chemistry.

The first year, two recitations a week in the Sophomore class will be given to General Chemistry, embracing properties and relations of chemical elements and compounds, with frequent reference to pharmaceutical and medical Chemistry. Great care is taken to enable the beginner to grasp the principles, and to this end two hours weekly will be given to laboratory work, to give clear ideas of chemical re-action and to accustom the student to handle apparatus.

During the second year, two hours per week in the Junior class will be given to theoretical Organic Chemistry, with two hours of practical work per week.

The third year is for B.S. students and those pursuing special courses, and is devoted to laboratory work, ten hours per week.

The first term.—Chemical manipulation, Blow-pipe analysis and Qualitative analysis.

The second and third terms.—Quantitative analysis, gravimetric and volumetric, including water analysis, urine analysis, etc. Students are encouraged to take special work in this department, such as Medical, Agricultural or Organic Chemistry.

The laboratory comprises seven rooms, conveniently arranged, lighted with gas, supplied with water and well-equipped with apparatus.

Text-Books.—Remsen's Elements of Chemistry, Remsen's Organic Chemistry, Venable's History of Chemistry, Elliott and Ferguson's Qualitative Analysis, Talbot's Quantitative Analysis, Thorpe's Quantitative Analysis, and many larger works to be found in the library and used for reference by the class.

Physics.

The first year's Physics is taught in the Preparatory department.

The second year's work is in the Senior collegiate class. First Term: Mechanics, Sound and Light. Second and third terms: Heat, Electricity and Magnetism. The student will be required to do all the practical work possible in this department.

Text-Books.—Carhart's University Physics, 2 vols., for the Senior, and Thwing's Elementary Physics for the Preparatory class.

Physiology.

This science is taught during the first term of the Senior Preparatory class. A great deal of practical work is required in this study. The student is required, under direction of the professor or assistants, to dissect the animals and then study every part of the body and its relations and functions. Much light is thrown on the subject by the use of thin sections with the microscope.

Text-Book.—Overton's Physiology.

Zoology.

This science is taught in the first term of the Freshman class. One term is given to the study. Much practical work is required. Obscure points and points of special interest are elaborated and elucidated by lectures. As in Physiology, much work is required of the student in dissecting, microscopic work, etc., to impress the lessons upon the mind of the pupil, and especially to lead him to investigate for himself.

Text-book.—Animals. A text-book of Zoology (Jordan, Kellogg and Heath).

Botany.

Botany is taught in the spring term of the Freshman class, five hours a week. Great stress is put on the practical analysis and classification of plants.

Text-book.—Leavet's outlines of Botany with Flora.

Geology.

This subject is taught in the first half of the Junior year, Scott's Geology being used as the text. Collateral reading is assigned and the class meets frequently for discussion of points of special interest and importance. Excursions are made into the country to aid the student in grasping Geological phenomena.

Courses Leading to the Degree of Master of Arts.

Those who desire to pursue the post-graduate work in this department, looking toward a Master's degree, will be required to do one year's residence work in the College. Major work will be offered in Chemistry only; either of the other branches may be taken as minors.

In Chemistry a more extended course in quantitative analysis will be required, both gravimetric and volumetric. Following this the candidate will be required to make many organic preparations and analyze same. The latter part of the year he will choose some special subject and under the direction of the professor will prepare a thesis showing original work, and submit same to the Faculty. At least fifteen hours laboratory work per week will be required.

Bible

A systematic Bible course of one year is given, with the President as instructor. The class meets from 3 to 5 times a week. This course may be substituted for some other study in the course, and will count 3 points toward graduation.

Degrees

In order to take the B.A., B.S., or B.P. degree, a student must complete work valued at 100 points in the schedule of values which follows. Studies for the B.A. and B.S. degrees are specified throughout. The studies for the B.P. degree may be chosen by the student. The student, however, who takes this degree, must complete in full two of the following schools: English, Latin, Greek Mathematics, Natural Sciences. He can choose the two of these which he prefers, and outside of the two schools selected, he can choose his studies freely from those specified in the B.A. and B.S. courses.

In making up the 100 points required for graduation, no points will be allowed on any uncompleted book, and no points will be allowed for less than one year's work in Greek, Latin, French or German.

MASTER'S DEGREE.

After taking a B.A. or B.S., in order to obtain the degree of Master of Arts, the student must take one of the courses given below, and more fully explained under each department, and must pass a satisfactory examination thereon. Only B.S. graduates or B.P. men who have taken full work in Mathematics and Chemistry can make Mathematics or Chemistry their Major, and only B.A. graduates or B.P. men who have taken full work in Latin and Greek, can make Latin or Greek their major.

The examination for the master's degree will be conducted orally by a committee of three from the Faculty.

The graduation fee is ten dollars, and must be paid ten days before the degree is conferred.

Post-Graduate Courses.

GROUP I.

Major.—Latin.

First Minor.—Greek.

Second Minor.—English, German or French.

GROUP II.

Major.—Greek.

First Minor.—Physics, Geology or Mineralogy.

Second Minor.—English, German or French.

GROUP III.

Major.—English.

First Minor.—Latin, Greek, German or French.

Second Minor.—Latin, Greek, German or French.

GROUP IV.

Major.—Mathematics.

First Minor.—Physics.

Second Minor.—Astronomy.

GROUP V.

Major.—Chemistry.

First Minor.—Physics, Geology or Mineralogy.

Second Minor.—Zoology or Botany.

GROUP VI.

Major.—Moral Philosophy.

First Minor.—Mental Philosophy.

Second Minor.—Logic, Political Economy, or History.

GROUP VII.

Major.—Mental Philosophy.

First Minor.—Moral Philosophy, Mental Philosophy, Political Economy, or History.

Second Minor.—Moral Philosophy, Mental Philosophy, Political Economy, or History.

GROUP IX.

Major.—Political Economy.

First Minor.—Moral Philosophy, Mental Philosophy, Logic, or History.

Second Minor.—Moral Philosophy, Mental Philosophy, Logic, or History.

GROUP X.

Major.—History.

First Minor.—Economics, Ethics, Psychology or Logic.

Second Minor.—Economics, Ethics, or Logic.

Daily Exercises

We teach five days in each week, Sunday and Monday being holidays. Every school day each student is expected to attend at least three recitations or lectures, and on Monday he is expected to prepare his orations, declamations and essays.

Literary Societies

There are two literary societies in the College, the Hermeanian and the Philomathean. In April, 1904, the Hermeanians celebrated their forty-ninth and the Philomatheans, their fifty-first anniversary.

Each society has a well-selected library which is open to all the members of both societies. These societies meet on Saturday nights for debates and other literary exercises.

There is also a Theological Society in the College, which was organized in 1872. All Christian students are invited to unite with this society, but the membership is always composed mostly of students who have the ministry in view. The time of meeting is Sunday afternoon and discussions are held on subjects bearing upon church government, Christian doctrines and Christian work.

Below will be found the speakers from each society for the session of 1903-1904, and also officers for the first month of the next session.

HERMENIAN SOCIETY.

OFFICERS FOR THE FIRST MONTH, 1904-1905.

Fall Orator—E. J. Ellzy.

Anniversary Speakers:

Anniversarian—J. H. Wallace.

First Orator—T. L. Holcomb.

Second Orator—Toxey Hall.

Third Orator—H. M. Weathersby.

President —Toxey Hall.

Vice-President—A. B. Kelly.

Religious Organizations

The B. Y. P. U.

A flourishing Baptist Young People's Union is maintained by the students of Mississippi College and Hillman College and the young people of the community. The object of this Union is to enlist, as far as possible, all students and young people in Christian work and living. To this end, systematic efforts are made at the opening of each session to attract into this organization all Christian students and others who desire to have access to the wholesome influences of the Union. This is a fine training school for efficiency in the later Christian life.

The Union meets every Sunday afternoon.

Y. M. C. A.

In connection with the College, is the Young Men's Christian Association, organized for the purpose of doing systematic Bible and Mission study and for the spiritual welfare of the young men of the College. The Association usually sends a delegate each year to the summer conference at Asheville, N. C., for special training in the study of the Bible and Missions, that successful work may be done the next session.

The Association meets every Monday night for devotional exercises, which the students are urged to attend, and in these meetings all are encouraged to take part in the public devotions.

Public Worship and Other Religious Exercises.

It is proposed in this institution to secure attention to study and correctness of deportment, not only by the enforcement of enactment, but also by cultivating in the student a taste for intellectual pursuits, virtuous habits, and high-toned honor. It is our desire that religion, the basis of all virtue, shall throw her healthful restraints over the student.

With this view, the public exercises of each day are opened with the reading of the Scriptures, and prayer. One night in each week, a prayer-meeting is held in the College chapel, which the students are encouraged to attend. Weekly prayer-meetings are also held by the students themselves, within the College building.

We seek to make a deep and consistent religious sentiment the prevailing characteristic of the College community. Young men whose characters have been moulded under proper influences in earlier years, seldom go astray here. They are absolutely safe nowhere, but in our opinion a college will not be found where the average young man is safer than in Mississippi College.

Special Enactment.

By special enactment the legislature has prohibited the retailing of intoxicating liquors in Clinton and vicinity.

Military Companies

There are two military companies connected with the institution, the Rifles, and the Invincibles. The Rifles wear the gray, the Invincibles the blue. Students can enter one of these companies or not, as they wish, and those who wish to enter either can make their own choice between them.

The design of these companies is to develop physical strength and grace and promote habits of economy in dress. Each cadet is required to purchase a uniform and he needs no other dress suit.

Each cadet is required to deposit $2.00 with the President of the College for the use of the military gun. The gun must be returned to the President at the end of the session or whenever the student withdraws from the company. If the gun is returned in satisfactory condition, one dollar of the deposit is charged for the rent, the other dollar is refunded. If the gun is returned in unsatisfactory condition, the student forfeits the dollar, or as much of it as the President may see proper to assess for the injury done to the gun.

When a student gives his name for membership in one of the companies, he is free to withdraw it until he has had an opportunity to take part in three regular company drills. After that he is not allowed to withdraw without the unanimous consent of the Faculty.

In order to make the management of the companies more efficient, the two companies will be organized into a battalion and Prof. W. N. Taylor will be made Major of the battalion. Prof. Taylor will therefore have charge of all military affairs in the College and will undertake to see that the management is efficient and just. Cadets must obey all regulations fixed by the Major. The penalty for violating any military rule, or for the neglect or non-performance of any duty, will be one or more squad drills of such length as accords with the judgment of the Major.

No cadet will be allowed to hold an office in either of the companies, unless he makes each term an average of seventy-five or more in his studies. If any officer's record of any term is found to average less than seventy-five, the officer will be reduced to the ranks, unless there be such extraordinary reasons for his failure as would lead the Faculty to give him another chance.

Inter-Collegiate Contest

No student who fails to make a general average of 75 per cent. in his studies will be allowed to participate in any inter-collegiate contest.

Medals.

FOUR MILITARY MEDALS.

A gold medal is given by the officers of each company and also by the cadets of each company, the object of which is to encourage the students more generally to avail themselves of the benefits of the Military School of the College and to stimulate to excellence in the manual of arms. The officers' medal is won by a competitive drill at the close of the session. The company medal is given to the first-year cadet, who wins oftenest in the daily drills of the session. Only those who have had no previous military training can enter the contest for this medal.

THE PREPARATORY MEDAL.

This medal is given by the Faculty to that student of the Preparatory department who, in public contest, attains, in the opinion of the judges, the highest excellence in declamation.

THE FRESHMAN MEDAL.

This is given annually at the close of the session by the class. The selection is made by public contest through judges selected for the occasion. It is awarded for best declamation.

THE J. J. LACKEY MEMORIAL MEDAL.

This is offered to the best reader and is open to the Freshman college class. It is given by Miss Margaret Lackey.

THE SOPHOMORE MEDAL.

This is a gold medal established in 1901 by Rev. W. A. Hewitt, of the class of '99, and is offered for the best declamation in the Sophomore class. This contest also occurs at the close of the session, and the award is made by special judges and according to the donor's specifications.

JUNIOR MEDAL.

This prize was established by Rev. I. P. Trotter, now of Hattiesburg, Miss., of the class of 1881, and it is designed to stimulate students to cultivate the art of oratory. The contest for this medal occurs annually during Commencement week and the speakers who compete must be members of the Junior class.

Their orations are to be original. The competitors agree in advance to submit gracefully to the decision of three of the five judges chosen by the Faculty to determine the relative merits of the several speakers. The judges consider especially the following:

1. Appearance and manner on the stage.
2. Pitch and management of the voice.
3. Distinctness of articulation.
4. Correctness of pronunciation.
5. Proper emphasis.
6. Tone and inflection.
7. Gestures.
8. Earnestness and naturalness in manner and expression.
9. Subject matter and composition.
10. General impression on the audience.

SENIOR MEDAL.

Mrs. J. F. Hailey offers a beautiful medal, a figure of Mercury, the god of eloquence, enclosed in a gold band, for best delivery of either an original or selected speech by any member of the Senior class. Conditions as follows:

1. Not more than six speakers shall compete.
2. Contestants shall be graduates of the session in which the contest is held.
3. The contestants shall be allowed to choose their own judges.
4. Points to be considered by judges shall be as follows: (a) General deportment and appearance on stage. (b) Distinctness of speech and tone color. (c) Interpretation of selection as shown by delivery.
5. Judges shall sit in different parts of hall and hand in their gradings, to be averaged by such persons as contestants may select.

THE EXTEMPORANEOUS DEBATER'S MEDAL.

This medal is founded by Miss Margaret Bennett of Crystal Springs, Miss., and will be given to the best extemporaneous debater, in accordance with the conditions prescribed by the donor. Members of the Sophomore, Junior and Senior Classes may compete for it.

MISSISSIPPI COLLEGE RIFLES.

Examination of Delinquents

During the two days before the opening of the session, students who have from any cause, failed to pass any or all of their examinations for the previous session, will be given an opportunity to stand them.

New Students

It is very desirable that new students be on the ground at least one day before the opening of the session, that time may be had for grading and classifying them according to their stages of advancement and proficiency, and that attention and assistance may be given them in finding suitable lodging and boarding places.

Terms of Admission

The applicant for admission will be examined as to his previous attainments and will be expected to furnish testimony that he sustains a good moral character. If he has been a member of any other college, he will be expected to present a certificate of regular dismission from that institution.

Each applicant will be furnished with a copy of the laws of the College, and after reading them, will be required to sign the following declaration and promise:

Matriculation Pledge

Intending to become a student of Mississippi College, I do hereby acknowledge myself subject to its laws, and I do further declare, on my honor, that I will obey the laws of the College now in force, or that may be enacted while I continue a student thereof, and that I will endeavor to uphold and maintain the same as long as I continue a student of the College. Especially do I declare, on my honor, that I will not have in my possession or under my control during my connection with the college, except by permission of the President, any playing cards or fire-arms or weapons of any kind nor any intoxicating drink.

Abstract of College Laws

1. Every student is expected to attend Sunday-school and preaching on the Lord's Day.

2. Each student shall regularly and punctually attend roll call, chapel service, all his recitations, and other duties assigned him by the President or professors.

3. Students must obtain the approbation of the President in the choice of a boarding-house, and no one will be permitted to change it without previous permission from him.

4. No student will be permitted to be absent from his room at night, without leave.

5. No student will be permitted to leave the town on any pretext whatever, during term time, without permission from the President, and minors, except in seeming emergencies, are required to present written permission from parent or guardian.

6. No student will be permitted to enter upon the grounds or premises of other persons except for proper purposes.

7. Damage done to any part of the College property must be repaired by the offender.

8. No student shall carry about him or have in his possession any deadly weapon, except by special permission from the President.

9. No student is entitled to an honorable dismissal from the College, who does not regularly perform all his prescribed duties up to the date of his asking for it; and if he is a minor, he is expected to present to the President the written consent of his parent or guardian at the time of asking.

10. During the hours fixed by the Faculty for recitation and study hours, students must not idly loiter or play either on the campus or elsewhere; nor must they be found during these hours at the trains, post-office or stores, but in their proper places and at work.

11. Students are not allowed at the depot, post-office, stores or in the business part of town after dark.

12. Students must never be found out of their rooms after ten o'clock at night, except in attending their societies or some other gathering not objected to by the Faculty.

13. The playing of cards either for money or amusement is forbidden, and students must not have cards in their possession nor allow them in their rooms. Of course gambling in every form is forbidden.

Once enrolled, a student is subject to the laws of Mississippi College, wherever he may be, until dismissed or permitted by the Faculty to withdraw.

Students for the Ministry

Such students must be approved and recommended to the College authorities by their churches at home. Provision is made, as far as possible, for paying the board of those who are unable to pay their own way.

Those desiring financial help are required to appear before the Board of Ministerial Education and satisfy them of their worthiness. The Board of Ministerial Education is appointed by the Baptist State Convention.

Teachers

To those who contemplate the vocation of teaching, the College affords excellent facilities. The demand for good teachers is great; in fact, greater than can be supplied. Here is an open door for usefulness which our best young men should not be slow to enter. There is no difficulty in finding good positions for those who qualify themselves well for work. Large numbers of students with teaching in view, attend the College every year, and it would be well if this number could be greatly increased. The College will give every encouragement to this class of students.

Expenses

Matriculation and Incidental Fees.—By the payment in advance of $35.00 in cash as Matriculation and Incidental fees for the session, a student secures admission to the college for the entire session of 36 weeks. When these terms are accepted, however, the student waives his right to a rebate in case of withdrawal. In case, however, of serious illness or death or other providential hindrance which forces the student to leave and prevents his return, settlement will be made at tuition rates as given below and the balance, if there should be a balance, will be refunded.

Matriculation and Incidental fee from the opening until Christmas is $22.50. From Christmas until the end of the session it is $25.00. For the last term of the session it is $15.00.

Tuition.—In case a patron does not wish to pay the $35.00 in advance, but prefers to pay monthly and have the privilege of withdrawal at any time, paying only for the time taken, the rates are as follows: A $5.00 entrance fee which is in no case refunded, and in addition, $5.00 a month tuition, payable monthly in advance.

It will be observed that a student who comes for the entire session will find it $15.60 cheaper to pay Matriculation and Incidental fees of $35.00 in advance.

Board.—A large majority of the students board in private boarding-house or families. In private boarding-houses and families, board ranges from $10.00 to $12.50 a month and the student supplies his own fuel and pays for his own lights. Fuel and lights for the session will average about $1.50 a month. Each student also arranges for his own washing and laundering which cost from $1.00 to $1.50 a month.

College Boarding Hall.—On the campus we have a steward's cottage and a large dining-hall and five cottages of four rooms each. A student can rent a place in an unfurnished room on the campus for 75 cents a month and secure good meals on the campus for $7.75 a month. The rooms are furnished by the students themselves, 2 students taking the room and dividing the expenses of furnishing it. Second-hand furniture is handed down from year to year and can be had quite cheap. The total expenses on the campus of room, furniture, meals, lights and fuel, usually amount to about $10.00 a month. Boys who expect to board on the campus should bring a pillow, pillow-cases, sheets, and bed-covers. Students taking a room on the campus will be required to pay one term's rent in advance, also to make a deposit of $2.00 as a guarantee for the safe keeping of the room. When the room is vacated and the key returned to the President the $2.00 will be refunded provided there has been no unnecessary injury to the room. Each student who boards on the campus is required to pay for his meals monthly in advance. The word "month" in this catalogue means everywhere a scholastic month or four weeks.

Some students rent furnished rooms in private homes in the village and take their meals on the campus. This is usually from $1.00 to $2.50 cheaper than taking both room and board in a private home.

Contract

The terms stated in this catalogue constitute the legal contract made between the College and each one who becomes a patron of it. We seek to do our duty by the students who enter the institution and we hope our patrons will not ask us to depart from our regulations.

Withdrawals

A student who is not discharging his duties to the satisfaction of the Faculty, or who is guilty of misconduct not sufficient to demand expulsion, will receive official warning from the President and should his bad influence or idle habits seem to justify it, his parents or guardian will be asked to withdraw him from school.

The Future

Large improvements ought to be made, and doubtless will be made, in the next few years. The College is growing, and there are many indications that its growth will be rapid and permanent.

The Next Session

The next session will open Wednesday, September 7th, 1904, and close Wednesday, May 24th, 1905. The first term of the session will close at noon Friday, December the 23d. The second term will open Tuesday, January 3d, 1905, at 8:30 A. M. The third term will open Tuesday, March 12th, 1905.

It is important that all students be present on the opening day and remain until the session closes.

In Memoriam.

HON. E. H. GREEN.

JACKSON, MISS.

The trustees of Mississippi College have again been called upon to mourn the death of one of their noblest members. On the 24th day of July, 1903, Hon. E. H. Green, of Jackson, breathed his last. He was one of the finest specimens of splendid manhood that ever came within the vision of the writer. As a soldier, as a business man, as a legislator, as a citizen, as a Christian, as a friend to all that builds up humanity's interest, he stood the peer of the bravest, the wisest, the best of Mississippi's noble sons. The memory of such men is a heritage for young Mississippians richer than mines of gold.

His friend,

W. T. LOWREY.

BLUE MOUNTAIN FEMALE COLLEGE.

The most prosperous Female Seminary in the South. Always full to overflowing. Ideal location. Seventy-acre campus, with the purest of fresh water gushing from the mountain side at the rate of 100 gallons a minute.

313 Boarding Pupils Last Session.

HILLMAN COLLEGE FOR YOUNG LADIES.

CLINTON, MISS.

JOHN L. JOHNSON, D. D., LL. D., President.

The fifty-second session of this School will begin September 8, 1904, and closes May 23, 1905.

Christmas Week will be Holiday.

The last session was by far the most satisfactory since the present administration came into control. If we except the measles, which swept over us like a cyclone, the health of the college was almost ideal; the conduct of the students was exceptionally good, and the work done by them was of a high order. Every young lady who stood the examination for public school teaching received a first-grade certificate.

We are not concerned for numbers so much as for scholarship and character. Last session we had about all the girls we could properly care for. We are arranging to entertain a few more next year. Rooms will be reserved when a deposit of $5.00 is made for each student.
